Priest: Wisdom

Reader: The reading from Genesis. (49:1-2, 8-12)

Priest: Let us Attend!

Reader: Jacob summoned his sons and said to them, "Gather together, in order that I may declare to you what will befall you at the last of days. Be gathered together and listen to me, sons of Jacob. Listen to Israel; hear your father. Judah, may your brothers praise, you; may your hands be upon the back of your enemies. The sons of your father will revere you. A cub of a lion, Judah; from a shoot, my son, you went up. After lying back, you slept like a lion and like a cub. Who will stir him up? A ruler will not cease from Judah, and one who leads from his thighs, until the things laid away for him come and he is the expectation of nations. Binding his foal to a vine and the foal of his donkey to the branch, he will wash his garment in wine and his cloak in the blood of grapes. His eyes gladdened more than wine, and his teeth bright as milk.

Priest: Wisdom

Reader: The reading from the Prophecy of Zephaniah. (3:14-19)

Priest: Let us Attend!

Reader: Thus says the Lord: Rejoice, O daughter of Zion! Make a proclamation, O daughter of Jerusalem! Rejoice and enjoy yourself from your whole heart, O daughter of Jerusalem! The Lord has taken away your injustices; he has ransomed you from the hand of your enemies. The king of Israel, the Lord, is in the middle of you; you shall not see evil any longer. In that time the Lord will say to Jerusalem, "Take courage, Zion! Do not let your hands get weak. The Lord your God is among you; the Mighty One will save you. And he will bring upon you the festivity and renew you in his affection, and he will rejoice because of you in delight as in a day of festival. And I will gather together those who are crushed. Alas, who took up a reproach against her? Behold, I will act among you for your sake in that time," says the Lord. "And I will save the oppressed one and the rejected one. I will gather them for a boast, and they will be renowned in all the earth.

Priest: Wisdom

Reader: The reading from the Prophecy of Zechariah. (9:9-15)

Priest: Let us Attend!

Reader: Thus says the Lord: Rejoice very much, O daughter of Zion; announce, O daughter of Jerusalem. Behold, your king comes to you, righteous and able to keep alive; he is humble and mounted upon a mule, even a young foal of an ass. And he will utterly destroy chariots from Ephraim, and a horse out of Jerusalem, and a warlike bow will be utterly destroyed, even a number of them; and there will be peace from the nations, and he will rule waters to seas and rivers, the passageway of the land. And you, in the blood of your covenant, sent away your prisoners from a pit that has no water Drop down in the strongholds, O prisoners of the assembly; and in place of one day of your exile I will repay you double. Because I stretched-you, O Judah, for myself like a bow; I filled Ephraim; and I shall awaken your children, O Zion, against the children of the Greeks, and I will touch you like a sword of a fighter: And the Lord will be upon them, and he will come out like a lightning bolt, and the Lord Almighty will sound with a war trumpet; and he will come with a surge of his anger. The Lord Almighty will protect them, and they will consume them, and they will overwhelm them with sling stones, and they will drink them like wine, and they will fill up a shallow bowl like an altar.

Deacon/Priest: Six days before the Passover, Jesus came to Bethany where Lazarus (who had been dead and whom Jesus had raised from the dead) lived. Therefore, they gave a supper for him there. Martha served while Lazarus was one of those who sat at the table with him. Then Mary took a pound of fragrance of pure nard, very precious; she anointed the feet of Jesus and wiped his feet with her hair. The house was filled with the fragrance of the ointment. Then Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, one of his disciples and the one who would betray him, said, "Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?" Now Judas said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the money box, he used to steal what was put into it. But Jesus said, "Leave her alone! She has kept this for the day of my burial. For you always have the poor with you, but you do not always have me."

Meanwhile, a large crowd of the Jews learned that Jesus was there. They came, not only for Jesus' sake, but also in order to see Lazarus whom he had raised from the dead. The chief priests even conspired to put Lazarus to death as well, because on his account many of the Jews were going over to Jesus and believed in him.

On the next day, a great multitude had come to the feast. When they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, they took branches from palm trees and went out to meet him, crying out, "Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the Name of the Lord, the King of Israel!"

Having found a young donkey, Jesus sat on it. As it is written:

"Do not be afraid, daughter of Zion!

Behold, your King is coming, sitting on a donkey's colt.

His disciples did not understand these things at first, but after Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written about him, and that they had done these things to him. Now the multitude that had been with Jesus when he had called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead continued to testify about it. For this reason also, the crowd had come out to meet him, because they had heard that he had done this sign.

Choir: Glory to You O Lord, Glory to You.

1. Open to me the gates of righteousness, that I may enter through them and give thanks to the Lord.
2. This is the gate of the Lord; the righteous shall enter through it.
3. I thank You that You have answered me and hast become my salvation.
4. The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner. This is the Lord's doing; it is marvelous in our eyes.
5. This is the day which the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it!
6. Save us, we beseech You, O Lord! O Lord, we beseech You, give us success!
7. God is the Lord and has revealed Himself to us. Bind the festal procession with branches, up to the horns of the altar!
8. You are my God, and I will give thanks to You; You are my God, I will extol You.

When the priest emerges with the gifts, then the Alleluia is sung:
